Pharmacia

1995

In Memorium
Dr. Karl-Heinz A. Rösler
1932-1995

This issue of the Terra Mariae is in part dedicated to Dr. Rösler, a long time faculty member at the School of Pharmacy.

Dr. Rösler was born in Germany and received both his Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy and Ph.D. in Natural Sciences from the University of Munich. He did post-doctoral studies in both Switzerland and Texas in the areas of Natural Product Research and taught at the University of Texas School of Pharmacy prior to accepting his position at Maryland. During his early years of tenure at the University of Maryland, Dr. Rösler initially taught Pharmacognosy and later became involved in educating a large percentage of Maryland pharmacists in Medicinal Chemistry.

Dr. Rösler will be remembered as a quiet and reserved professor whose impish sense of humor and genuine caring for his pharmacy students will be surely missed.

In Dedication to Dr. Ralph F. Shangraw

en Ralph Shangraw arrived in Baltimore in 1958 to begin what would be his one and only real job, he was referred to by Ben en, a senior member of the Department of Pharmacy, as "one of those young scientific-types." The skepticism implied in this ribution was further enhanced when Ralph started compressing nitroglycerin into tablets in the lab below Dr. Allen's office. wever, these words were prophetic. Ralph has an insatiable curiosity, the willingness to try just about anything (except etables), and the ability to recognize issues and results that are significant. I know of no one whose entire life more closely ulates the scientific method. He not only asks questions, but he finds a way to answer them. Can microcrystalline cellulose be d to manufacture tablets without using the complex and expensive wet granulation process? Can a stable nitroglycerin tablet manufactured? Why would a parenteral solution lose potency more rapidly when frozen? Is the calcium in calcium tablets available? Can experiential learning be incorporated into the curriculum to enhance the education of pharmacy students? n you buy a quality popcorn in bulk?

ality is a word that describes just about every aspect of Ralph's career. Those of us in pharmacy education are expected to be iple threats": researchers, teachers, and servants to the public through our profession. Few of us do it as successfully as Ralph ngraw. He is one of only a few individuals to receive both the top research achievement award from the American Association Pharmaceutical Scientists (Research Achievement Award, Pharmaceutical Technology Section, 1989) and a pre-eminent tinguished educator award (Educator of the Year, American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, 1991). Ralph has been and ntinues to be active with the United States Pharmacopeial Convention and as a participant in the UMAB/FDA collaborative reement.

ung scientific-type, indeed! It's Ralph's nature to observe, question, experiment, analyze, interpret, understand, communicate, bly. He creates and uses new information and technology to break down barriers to progress. Last week I received an e-mail ssage from Ralph; look out everyone, he's on the information highway!

e credentials are there to justify a dedication of this yearbook to Ralph Shangraw, "Educator and Scientist". I've selected only a w from a truly impressive list of accomplishments. However to label him so would be to miss the quintessential human element t sets Ralph apart from so many other giants in academia.

at about his sense of history? What about his quest to enjoy life to the fullest? What about his wonderful sense of humor? What out his committment to his family? To me, Ralph is an example of how I want to live my life. At a recent dinner in Ralph's nor, his son Rick reminisced about life in the Shangraw family. One comment he made really struck me: he remarked that he, brother, and his sister were never able to distinguish work from the other parts in their life. Marilyn and the kids have always en involved in Ralph's work, because they were a family, and it was important work. Those of us that frequent Pharmacy Hall the weekends still often find Ralph and Marilyn together working in the 6th floor conference room. Sometimes setting an ample happens as naturally as this.

Dean's Message

A yearbook is a book of memories. It's much more than a few pages of text, a few dozen pictures. It captures a year in t life of the School of Pharmacy. It is a book that will mean very different things to different individuals, since each perso experience while at school has been different.

But it is a book that will be kept longer than almost any other. It will be reviewed at alumni class reunions and will be source of much laughter as people try to remember what they and their classmates once looked like. It will be a source f future newslettet editors looking fot a picture of a prominent phatmacy leadet as he or she looked when still in school. B best of all, it will be a book to take off the shelves to show sons and daughters and grandchildren when, in the security your own home, you try to explain to younger generations that you really didn't go to school in a log cabin!

This volume of the Terra Mariae captures a very significant year — the 204th in the history of the School of Pharmacy, is a year of special meaning for the Class of 1995 and the Class of 1996, since some of the students who entered in the f of 1992 will be graduating in each of those years. (By design, I might add!) It has been marvelous to observe how t original group has melded into an effective class, despite different academic choices. Whenever a curriculum changes li ours has over the last two years, tensions and ambiguity arise. But this class has been able to cope with these challeng remarkably well. You'll see that teflected in these pages.

Congratulations to the Class of 1995 and best wishes to the Class of 1996.

David A. Knapp, Ph.D.
Dean

Class Advisor

Mr. Fred Abramson

Fred provided me with inspiration throughout the pharmacy school years and always helped me to keep a positive outlook.

Mike Beatty

I would like to clone him. I wish there were more people like Fred. It would be a much better world.

Dr. Robert Beardsley

"T - H - I - N - K!"

Natasha Altshuler

He is always so positive. He always says that we can do it and it is good to have at least one person rooting for us.

Melinda Johnson

Fred's the best man I've ever met...and if it weren't for him, I'd be a deli clerk.

Christie Milstead

He always responds in the superlative.

Dr. Donald Fedder

Fred is one of those persons who have the greatest outlook in life. It doesn't matter how he feels. He will tell you he feels fantastic!

Dr. Megaly Rodriguez-deBittner

Fred spends a lot of time with students. He appreciates students and they appreciate him.

Pharm.D Class of '97 Smiling Conte

Chris Hawk gives it a try. Patience! This is his first smile.

Dean Markos shows what he can do, smiling & walking at the same time...way to go!

Here's Jon Gibson when sad. Imagine him being hysterical!

Derek Lieske is no slouch with smiling. He's had lots of practice

Bill Knebel shows the class what a 4.0 GPA will do for your face. Congratulations!

Stanley Shepperson gives us his best debonair stare.

Rich Townsend & Jim Bresette pair up for so tag-team smiling. Hey, these guys are professionals. We want amateurs.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association of the School of Pharmacy fosters and supports communication between alumni and the school, alumni the current students and alumni and the professional organizations. During 1994-95, the Alumni Association increased the numbe scholarships, participated in the Annual Phonathon, sponsored an annual Crab Feast, a Winter Ski Trip and the Annual Spi Graduation Banquet where the guests of honor included Jacquelyn Lucy as Honorary President of the Association, Steven Cohe Honored Alumnus and the Class of 1995. This year the Alumni Association obtained a grant from Alumni Association Internati (AAI) for help in finding "lost" alumni.

The Maryland Poison Center

he Maryland Poison Center (MPC) is a regional poison center serving the entire state of Maryland. Since moving to the School of harmacy in 1972, the center has maintained high quality poison information services 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The two ain goals of the MPC are to save lives and to save dollars.

he MPC saves lives in several ways. First, by providing emergency poison treatment information for parents, day care providers, hysicians and nurses, as well as first responders in the field, the MPC works to help prevent morbidity and mortality from poisoning. Iext, public education programs are used to help prevent poisonings from occurring and to make sure parents are aware of the service case a poisoning does occur. The MPC saves dollars by managing most cases (70%) safely at home, preventing unnecessary and xpensive emergency department evaluation and treatment.

ll full time staff are pharmacists and nurses with additional training in clinical toxicology and are certified as specialists in poison nformation (CSPI) by the American Association of Poison Control Centers.

The staff of the MPC include:
Wendy Klein-Schwartz, PharmD: Director
Bruce D. Anderson, PharmD, ABAT: Acting Director
Cathleen Clancy, MD, ABMT: Medical Director
Lisa Booze, CSPI: Education and Clinical Coordinator
Annette Hurst: Administrative Assistant
Lisa Aukland, CSPI
Lyn Goodrich, CSPI
Linda Gutkoska
Mike Hiotis
Eric Schuetz, CSPI
Kevin Simmons, CSPI
Paul Starr, CSPI
Dawn Stull, PharmD
Anne Tschirgi, CSPI

Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly

The Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly was formed in 1979 by Dr. Peter Lamy who, until his death in March 1994, served as the Center director. The Center is the focus of geriatric education, research and service programs for the School of Pharmacy. Support for the Center is given in the form of grants from the private and public sector.

Under the auspices of the Center, the Parke-Davis Company has endowed a chair in geriatric pharmacotherapy. This chair was he by Dr. Lamy.

The Center published a quarterly newsletter, ElderCare News which goes to more than 47,000 health care professionals nationally and internationally. Under the auspices of the Center, the Elder-Health Program provides consumer drug education programs to elderly, their caregivers and to health care professionals both in Maryland and nationally. This program is headed by Dr. Madelin Feinberg. Students may take electives, such as Geriatric Drug Education or Elder Visitation, which prepares them to interact with the older patient to improve medication outcomes. The Elder-Health Program produces more than 20 customer education brochures.

Center Faculty:

In addition to Dr. Madeline Feinberg, who has been with the Center since its inception in 1970, Dr. Becky Nagle joined the Center in 1994. She has developed a geriatric inpatient practice at the Veteran's Affairs Medical Center in Baltimore. She also developed an elective course for students interested in geriatric pharmacotherapy and has initiated research looking at drug use among the assisted living elderly population.

Drs. Robert Michocki, Ilene Zuckerman, Myron Weiner, Beverly Yachmetz have been actively involved in Center activities. Among the most popular experiences for students are the outpatient geriatric evaluation clinics precepted by Drs. Michocki and Zuckerman, and Dr. Weiner's geriatric pharmacology course is a longtime student favorite as well.

Drug Information Center

The Drug Information Center at the School of Pharmacy is a part of Informational Services which includes other departments such as the Maryland Poison Center and SCODAE/OSAS. The Center provides timely answers to drug related questions to the local health professional community as well as the lay public. Office hours are Monday - Friday 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Beginning summer 1995, the Center will also offer residency training to recent PharmD graduates who are seeking career advancement in the field of Drug Information Services.

Welcome to the Profession

Congratulations Class of 1995 !!!

The Maryland Pharmacists Association has been behind you during your days at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy. But, although your formal academic education is finished, your opportunity to learn and grow as a pharmacy professional is only just beginning.

That's what your state association is for. If you are serious about progress and concerned about expanding the profession you are now entering, we urge you to remain active in MPhA. Find out how you can contribute and help us all determine the future course of pharmacy!

Congratulations Class of 1995, YOU MADE IT!!!

Congratulations Class of 1995!

from the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences

Congratulations to the Class of 1995 and Graduating Phi Delta Chi members:

Diane Bushman, Wendy DiPietro-Mizell, Bethany Fishman, Missy Henegar, John Jordan, Christi Milstead, Jodi Morgan, Laurie Stallings, Tracy Travers and now these messages . . .

Once again, several gallons of Maxwell House were chugged, bundles of red china wax pencils were rubbed down to mere stubs, and billions of empty calories were consumed. Fortunately, several acres of trees were saved thanks to the pentium chip, unlike years past. We came out a little plumper, the world's a little greener, and another Terra Mariae was published.

Who made this possible? All of you who decided not to cower from the flashing strobe lights of our cameras. We would like to recognize those who slaved behind these pages. Thank you Dr. MacKerell for volunteering to be the yearbook advisor, pushing us forward when we were on the verge of quitting, and tolerating our whining, crying, and *#!&@ing when we burst into your office. Thanks Tim Munn for installing the "Packard Hell" and putting up with our constant presence in the computer lab, our second home. Thanks Joe Wenzl, the Taylor rep, who helped ease the transition to our present publisher and taught us everything to make our book a runaway bestseller.

In addition we are grateful to Gloria Ricks, Odessa Jones, Brenda Conrad, Ann Bonaparte, Caroline Footman, and Mary Franks for their valued assistance.

A special thanks goes to Dr. Hollenbeck for his dedication on Dr. Shangraw's retirement and Dr. Blomster for his memorium to Dr. Rösler. We are also grateful to Dr. Beardsley for his contribution to the faculty section and encouragement.

On the staff, we send our appreciation to Sam Wu, business editor, Wayne Hube and Debi Cruz, class historians. Sam was extremely helpful in recruiting advertisers and Wayne and Debi were instrumental in piecing together their class sections.

Kudos to all those who devoted their time to the layouts and photography: Sudha Shukla, Jennifer Fan, Debbie Blamble, Karen Mochinal, Kelly Stemmer, Heather Owens, Rhea del Rosario, Oby Unegbu, and Jennie Chang for typing this message. If it weren't for you hons, this book would still be crammed inside the locker on the second floor!

Until next time . . .
